

ATTENTION: 2009 Radioactive Waste Transport Permit Applicants

As of July 1, 2008 only radioactive waste generated in the states of South Carolina, Connecticut or New Jersey may be sent for disposal to the Barnwell Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Site operated by Chem-Nuclear Systems, LLC. This is in accordance with the "Atlantic Compact Implementation Act." Shippers (includes generators and brokers/collectors) sending waste that was generated in an Atlantic Compact State to the Disposal Site will need a valid permit regardless of the state where the Shipper is located. As always, shippers in all states will need a permit if transporting radioactive waste into or within the State of South Carolina in accordance with SC Regulation 61-83 regardless of whether the waste is being shipped for disposal at the Disposal Site.
